

Green and White Scholarship Ball

Those who attended the Fourth Annual Green and White Scholarship Ball had a chance to find out what attending one of Delaware's "must do events" is really like!

This year guests were greeted with flutes of champagne as they meandered through three floors and nine themed rooms filled with amazing food and tantalizing entertainment. Guests enjoyed sampling savory bites and sweet sensations from 22 of the finest restaurants in the Delaware area. Dancing was on the menu in every room as couples moved between the steel drums and vocals of Raymond Charles and the Caribbean Authentics, the Creative Jazz Ensemble, Maya Mariachi, The Round Tower Irish Band, Tim Laushey Trio, The Amore Italiano Trio or the 10 piece classic rock n' roll sounds of the FUNSTERS!

Before the night was over, everyone made their way to the main floor where the staff at Wilmington University operated one of the best silent auctions in Delaware. Glamorous partiers vied for gift baskets, vacation packages, electronics and other surprises.

In just three years, proceeds from this Green and White Scholarship Ball have made quality education at Wilmington University possible by securing scholarships to deserving students. All proceeds from this event are added to the scholarship fund that is used annually to support scholarships, financial aid, and other benefits for the students of Wilmington University.

So many sponsors and amazing volunteers were instrumental in making this event come true! Visit www.wilm.edu/greenandwhite website to get to know these wonderful contributors.

Next year don't miss your chance to eat chocolate truffles while dancing the night away, but leave knowing that you have contributed to helping students fulfill their dreams of earning a University degree!
