

Master of Science Family Nurse Practitioner

Prepare for Advanced Practice with a Nurse Practitioner M.S.N.

Designed for professional RNs who seek advanced or private practice opportunities, this CCNE-accredited Nurse Practitioner master's degree program prepares you for APRN licensure and board certification. In the Family NP concentration, you'll blend theory, practice and scholarly inquiry, and you'll graduate ready to practice or seamlessly continue to doctoral-level study.

Flexible Program Designed for Busy RNs

This affordable program couples rigorous academics with the flexibility working RNs need. The hybrid schedule combines online learning with just one evening per week of in-person class time. Practicum experiences are spread over three to five semesters in the latter half of your program of study, providing advance notice for your scheduling needs.
