MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Welcome to the 2011 Spring Semester! All of us in the library are committed to offering quality services and resources to the University community. In this issue you can read about the strides we have made in transforming our collection through ebooks such as Credo Reference, Statesman’s Yearbook and Annual Reviews. We also have listened to your requests for extending Juvenile Literature borrowing terms to 14 days. Several programs are planned or have taken place including our Veterans Day commemoration and our Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony for the renovated Library Commons in New Castle. So much is happening. We invite you to come hear more and meet our staff on April 14th during National Library Week. Our goal, as always, is to help you learn!

- Jim McCloskey, Library Director
Library invites you to the Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony of the new Library Commons and Café.

National Library Week is an annual celebration of the contributions of our nation’s libraries and librarians. Libraries are places for new beginnings. Whether you are getting your first library card, learning new computer skills or planning a trip, the library is the place where your story begins.

This National Library Week, join the Wilmington University Library and Create Your Own Story at your library.

We invite the Wilmington University community to be part of the Ribbon-Cutting Ceremony for the new Library Commons and Café.

We welcome Annie Norman, Director of the Delaware Division of Libraries, to participate in the ceremony. Please come out and see the new renovations made to the Library.

The event will be held in the New Castle site Library, Peoples Building on the morning of Thursday, April 14th. Refreshments will be served. Hope to see you there!

For more information on National Library Week visit www.ala.org/nlw

GET TO KNOW THE LIBRARY STAFF

Featured Staff Member | Barbara Beard

Barbara began working for the University in January 2001. In September of 2008, she joined the Library as a Library Assistant. Wilmington University is also where Barbara earned her Bachelor’s in Science degree. When asked what she likes best about working in Library, she replied “what I enjoy most is working with the students, whether it’s to help locate articles or find books.” She also likes helping with special library events and library book displays.

A part of Barbara’s job is managing the Library’s work study students. In doing this, she is able to see their academic journey and it is very rewarding to her to see them graduate. Over the years working in the Library, Barbara has witnessed many changes take place. From the renovations made to the Library this past summer to resources transitioning from print to online, she is very pleased with the Library’s improvements.

Looking toward the future, Barbara hopes to see even more of an expansion of electronic resources. The affiliation with the Delaware Library Catalog is something she feels will further provide the resources necessary for our students in the years to come.
NEW PERIODICAL TITLES ADDED

The Library recently added several new titles to the print collection.

LIBGUIDES SUPPORTS YOUR RESEARCH

What is a LibGuide? LibGuides are sets of web pages for research assistance, subject guides, and useful resources compiled by librarians at Wilmington University Library. You may find LibGuides for specific courses or on general topics, while other LibGuides explain about different areas of the Library. The “Library” tab in all Blackboard course pages now links to either College level or course specific LibGuides that help you start your research and get going in completing your assignments.

OUTCASTS UNITED CHOSEN FOR NEW FYE BOOK

Are you a soccer fan? Have you ever wondered why this game is so popular in so many countries? Join the students of FYE101 in reading Outcasts United, written by Warren St. John. Outcasts United was named a finalist for the 2010 PEN/ESPN Award for Literary Sportswriting. Read more about it @ http://www.outcastsunited.com.

Outcasts United is the story of a team of refugee boys, the remarkable woman who coaches them, and the town where they live, a once-sleepy southern hamlet that has been upended by the process of refugee resettlement. It’s a story about the challenges posed by our quickly changing world, and one that reminds us of what is possible in this country when we put our values in action.

DELAWARE LIBRARY CATALOG IMPROVES CIRCULATION

Since joining the Delaware Library Catalog, borrowing and lending has increased immensely for the Wilmington University Library.

LIBRARY COMMEMORATES VETERANS DAY

Many gathered in the Library to hear the stories of WWII veterans.

On Thursday, Nov. 11th, the Library cosponsored a Veterans Day event with the College of Arts & Sciences. Four World War II veterans shared with more than 50 attendees their experiences serving in both the European and Pacific theaters of war. The event guest speakers were George Reynolds, Howard McKeever, John Lewis and Irwin Shmuckler. Their stories were very moving, and since some of them were in their eighties, it was important to hear them.

This event took place in the Library’s new Café. Many Wilmington University students were present, and additional library users stopped by to listen for a few moments. Feedback was very positive and will most likely lead to more programming in the Library over the coming years.

LIBRARY MISSION

The mission of the Wilmington University Library derives from the mission and nature of the University. The Library supports the delivery of academic programs by making available to the University community the resources and methods to access information. The goal of the Library is to provide students with the resources and skills necessary to become self-directed life-long learners.

The Library strives to accomplish this by:

- providing information resources and services that benefit our students
- facilitating access to information by providing multiple formats and by linking to other networks and information resources
- conducting Library orientation sessions for both undergraduate and graduate students
- promoting the use of problem solving, critical evaluation, and decision making skills in understanding and locating information in all formats

IN THE NEWS: STUDENTS AND LIBRARIES

According to a survey released last week by Cengage Learning, 87% of students feel that online libraries and databases have had the most significant impact on their overall learning. The survey, entitled “Instructors and Students: Technology Use, Engagement and Learning Outcomes” conducted by Eduventures, identifies a new generation of students and highlights pressures and obstacles hindering student success. This is the second Cengage Learning/Eduventures survey designed to uncover how educational technology impacts overall student engagement and learning outcomes.
